He Found Us!
Luke 15: 1-10

It is often said that we are living in a disposable age. Today paper masks, fast food wrappers, cigarette butts and empty water bottles litter parking lots everywhere. Electronic items like televisions and appliances are thrown away rather than fixed and much of our so-called disposable income has been disposed of on the necessities of life. Even so, the disposable age is really nothing new. It started right after Adam and Eve fell from grace and the Garden of Eden. The only thing that changes through the ages are the things that people toss away.

- A parable is an _____ with a _____.
- We live in a _____ age, but God doesn't.
- There is great _____ in _____ when sinners _____.
