A Note From The Pastor...

December is here, which means snow, Advent and the Christmas season are also here. Most of us have heard the Christmas story so many times that we probably don't think too much about it. Is it possible that we have become so familiar with the story of Christmas that we are no longer amazed by the mystery of it all? Like other things that can become routine, it is easy to overlook the wonder that surrounds us during this most special time of the year.

The gospels of Matthew and Luke provide a written record of the birth of Christ; each told from a different perspective under the guidance and inspiration of the Holy Spirit. Luke's main purpose in writing was to provide an "orderly account" of the life of Jesus Christ, and to show that He came into the world to redeem humankind. His Gospel provides many of the details that inquiring minds need to know, like the time, date and intimate details of how it happened. Matthew's purpose in writing was to demonstrate that Jesus was the long-awaited Messiah of Israel, and his account of Christ's birth clearly reflects that. He begins with the record of the genealogy of Christ, going back 42 generations to Abraham, to establish that Jesus was of the line of David, as the Scriptures clearly foretold. That was no small detail, for if this Child was not of the lineage of David, he could not be the true Messiah.

Luke reveals much about Mary's thoughts and prayers at the time, and Matthew does the same for Joseph. Both writers speak of fear. Luke reminds us that Mary was afraid, hearing from an angel that she had found favor with God. She wasn't sure what that meant, but she knew it came with responsibility. Matthew tells us that Joseph was "a just man" that had fears about marrying a woman who was carrying a child that was not his. What was he afraid of? The Bible doesn't say, but it is reasonable to conclude that it was fear of God himself. If he took Mary as his wife, he would have to deceive those around them into believing that the child was his. Character and integrity meant something to him.

It is obvious God chose Joseph to be the surrogate father of Christ, just as He chose Mary to be the birth mother of Jesus. God allows nothing to happen by chance, or by mere routine. God sent an angel to both to alleviate their fears and provide guidance and direction. They both submitted to the will of God. Both willingly accepted the role that they would have in world changing event and were obedient to the will of God for their lives. Their lives were changed forever by their encounter with the Christ and then creation was forever changed. What is God asking you to do that might also change our world for good? Be not afraid this Christmas season, for God is with us! Pastor Greg

Just when you think you have graduated from the school of experience, someone thinks up a new course.

Show me an unemployed
Santa, and I'll show you a
Ho-Ho hobo!

God grant you lightness in your step,
A smile on every face you meet,
Loved ones gathered at your hearth,
And at your door, good friends to greet.

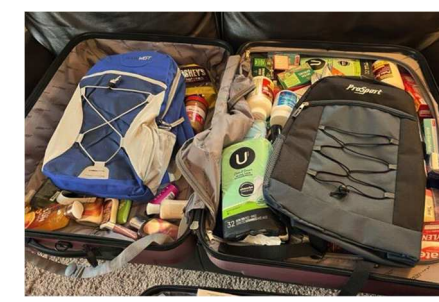

A holy hymn upon your lips,
A window candle burning bright,
And may the Good Lord bless your heart
And come to dwell there Christmas night.

The Goodness of God

As I sit and look out the sliding doors watching the snowflakes fall softly to the ground, how beautiful each flake is formed. The goodness of God allows us these moments to remind us of the beauty of each season.

This past November, God has blessed our church in many beautiful ways. He enabled us to send a huge suitcase of medicines (70 pounds) and food and supplies (26 pounds). Imagine a gift of $1600 in monetary donations and a laptop computer to our Sister Church in Monte Feria, Cuba.

How can we not be grateful for the bounty of our church folks who gave so graciously to this mission!

May I add a very "Special Thank You" to those who helped with our Free Community Drive-Thru Thanksgiving Dinner. I know it takes many to get the dinner out the door. All of you are very much appreciated! Our Renowned Chef Pastor Greg - we praise God for his guidance and always watching over us (his flock).

Thank you, my church family for your generous spirit as we continue to serve those who are in need.
